Pregnancy Center West to Benefit from “Annie” Preview at Covedale Center for the Performing Arts

Long-standing Partnership Provides Life-saving Resources

(Cincinnati, OH, October 13, 2017) – Pregnancy Center West (PCW) announced today that it will once again benefit from the generous support through its long-standing partnership with Cincinnati Landmark Productions (CLP). The ever-popular “Annie” will be previewed on Wednesday, November 29th, 2017 at 7:30 pm, and The Covedale Center will donate half of the proceeds of ticket sales through Pregnancy Center West to benefit PCW's life-affirming ministry. Patrons that wish to benefit Pregnancy Center West are encouraged to visit www.pc-west.org and purchase their tickets through the Events Calendar, or call 513-244-5700.

“Our supporters love these shows, and so do we,” stated Nicole Santaella, Executive Director at Pregnancy Center West. “Through these benefit shows, we’re able to work with women and families, providing much-needed assistance to address their immediate needs. Thanks to our friends at the Covedale Center, and the many patrons who attend, we're able to reach and serve more individuals in need.”

PCW's partnership with Cincinnati Landmark Productions has been a blessing to those we serve for several years. Each year, the Covedale Center and the Incline Theater provide several opportunities for Pregnancy Center West to benefit from the preview shows. Patrons attending the shows have consistently had a wonderful experience, as CLP is known for its excellent performances. In addition to a great show, attendees can enjoy delicious, homemade treats provided by PCW supporters at no cost (free will offerings are accepted).

Tickets for the preview showing are $20 each, with half of the proceeds benefitting Pregnancy Center West. To purchase tickets for “Annie,” to be previewed on Wednesday, November 29, 2017 at 7:30 pm, please visit the Events Calendar at www.pc-west.org, call 513-244-5700, or e-mail bill@pc-west.org.

About Pregnancy Center West:

Founded in 1981, Pregnancy Center West (PCW) is a Christian, pro-life ministry dedicated to helping women facing untimely pregnancies choose life for their babies, providing assistance with pregnancy and parenting-related services to help make life-giving choices easier, and encouraging lifestyles of sexual integrity in keeping with God's plan for relationships. Located at historic Prout's Corner (where Glenway Ave., Guerley Rd. and Cleves-Warsaw intersect), the center engages women and their families every day as they work to fulfill their life-affirming ministry. PCW is an affiliate of Heartbeat International and the National Institute of Family and Life Advocates, and is a member of the Greater Cincinnati Pregnancy Center Coalition.
